What the Most Influential Do Differently

What makes people want to listen to you, trust you, and act on what you say? With his use of humor (the funny kind), Garrison Wynn shows how to create an environment for success by making people feel heard and valued. In this fast-paced, research-based keynote, you'll recognize a few people you work with (possibly yourself) and walk away with things you can do tomorrow to be more influential and deliver a better experience for your employees, your customers, the people in your care, and their families.

Tickets are required for entry (SOLD OUT)
